

New Melteca Hi-Gloss Panels - Accessible style for New Zealand's Interiors

April 2011

Decorative surfaces brand Melteca is commanding attention indoors with the introduction of its Hi-Gloss panels offering, ideal for designers and home owners looking to create a visually striking and unique interior.

An innovative range of surfaces that allows a desirable gloss finish to be achieved without the premium price, Melteca Hi-Gloss Panels are suitable for a variety of applications across domestic and commercial projects, including cabinetry, doors, drawers, vertical panels and shop fittings.

Featuring nine popular colours, Melteca Hi-Gloss panels perfectly complement the fashionable Formica Colour Collection to provide a complete design solution.

Ranging from the soft tones of Warm White and Birch, to the stylish woodgrain finishes of Fini Chocolate and Refined Oak, each of the decors also has matching gloss edging, facilitating the range's ease of use.

Mositure-resistant and easy to clean, the double-sided decorative panels ensure that homes and commercial interiors will withstand the wear and tear of a busy lifestyle, continuing to impress for years to come.
